

JTA Community Meetings Notice

The Jacksonville Transportation Authority (JTA) is hosting five community meetings and a public hearing to seek input and share its latest information related to upcoming fare changes and service changes. JTA staff will be available to document feedback received from the public and discuss recommendations for moving forward.

At the JTA, our customers are the center of what we do. We work to move people, connect neighborhoods and deliver reliable, clean and courteous service. Thanks to our customers and your partnership at community meetings like this, we're better together.
